Grapevine Garden Club September Program

Roger Sanderson of Texas Discovery Gardens has broad interests in both reptiles and insects. However, he speaks to us this month about drought tolerant gardening, a subject we can never learn enough about. His presentation will center on plant species that are especially adapted to tolerate the severe water restrictions we all must follow in our region of Texas.

President's Message

Normally the summer is a time to take a long break from garden club activities—but not this summer. Many GGC members have been putting in lots of hours preparing for some exciting new fall events. It's going to be a busy time and I hope you will all join in and volunteer to help.

The annual Butterfly Flutterby event on October 19th will take place for the first time at the Grapevine Botanical Gardens. GGC will take a more active role in the Butterfly Flutterby with children's activities including a scavenger hunt, art contest, butterfly movie, a photo booth, and crafts. Our expanded involvement will mean we need lots more help before and during the event.

Our second annual fall plant sale, "Plant Native – Plant Now", will take place at the same place and time. We will sell native and adapted trees and shrubs as well as nectar and host plants for butterflies. All proceeds will benefit the Greenhouse Project.

There will be no general meeting in November so we can present a very special event: "A Morning with Neil Sperry". I want to thank our member, Debbie Smith, and her husband, James, for making it possible to have Neil Sperry come speak in our own downtown Grapevine. All proceeds will go to the Greenhouse Project. I hope to see all of you and your friends there.

Neil Sperry

My theme this year is "Welcoming Butterflies to our Gardens". You will find that there are many butterfly-oriented activities planned for this year. We as gardeners are the perfect folks to make life easier for migrating monarchs and other butterflies.

Are You Getting a Printed Newsletter?

In an effort to be as “Green” as possible, we are requesting those of you who receive the Grapevine Garden Club Newsletter in the mail to consider receiving it via email. Maybe a spouse, child, or close friend can help.

Also, when there is a garden club function that you are attending, such as a tour or a luncheon, and you normally receive a written map or instruction, perhaps you could buddy up with a friend. Have that friend pass along the information to you so that we can cut back on our mailings.

The GGC Board appreciates your cooperation. Have a great year and happy gardening!

Garden Docent News

Lots of fun and exciting volunteer opportunities are already lining up for this fall at the Grapevine Botanical Gardens at Heritage Park (GBG). Horticulturist, Lisa Adams Grove, is starting a new Seniors Program that will take place on the fourth Monday of every month in the Garden from 10:00 A.M. until noon. She is looking for a docent who would be willing to take a lead role for this program. That person will meet with Lisa two times a year to plan the sessions. Lisa has already planned the first three programs for this fall. She will also need volunteers on those Mondays to help with the activities. (See additional information about this exciting new project in this issue of the newsletter.)

After a two month break from the heat, we are starting up the Docents in the Garden on Saturday Morning program again. The hours are 10:00 A.M. until noon and it’s a great opportunity to share information about the GBG with visitors.

The dates for the Concerts in the Garden are October 5, 12, and 19. We will need help on those evenings with children’s craft activities from 6:30 to 8:30 P.M. Spending the evening in the Garden listening to music is wonderful.

And last, the Butterfly Flutterby will be in the Grapevine Botanical Gardens on Saturday, October 19 from 10:00 A.M. to 2:00 P.M. We are looking for volunteers to help with the Scavenger Hunt activity. (See related article in this issue.)

Grapevine Botanical Gardens

Emails will be coming your way and there will be sign-up sheets at the next meeting. Please come join us for all of the fun activities in the Garden. If you would like to volunteer for any of these activities now, you may contact Paula Wilson.

GBC Docent Coordinator

Senior Gardening Program

The Grapevine Senior Activity Center is beginning a new monthly Gardening Program series. This class will meet on the fourth Monday of the month at the Grapevine Botanical Gardens and will have a different topic each session. The first class is Monday, September 23 from 10:00 A.M. until noon to learn about container gardens. Participants will find out which ornamental plants will make a great container garden, how to care for them, and will make their own container garden to take home. The second class is Monday, October 28 to learn about Patio Gardening. Participants will learn about growing edible plants in containers, what edible plants make a great patio planting, how to care for them, and will make their own patio pot to take home. The topic for the November 25th class is how to use the latest innovative ergonomic garden tools to make gardening chores a breeze. There is a $5.00 charge for each class. Participants will register for each class at the Grapevine Senior Activity Center.

Butterfly Flutterby is moving to the Grapevine Botanical Gardens!

Everyone is invited to celebrate the migration of the monarch butterfly from Canada to Mexico by way of Grapevine. The 16th Annual Butterfly Flutterby (BFFB) is a free, family-friendly event and this is the first year the event is being held at the Grapevine Botanical Gardens.

The event will be held Saturday, October 19th from 10:00 A.M. – 2:00 P.M.; the same day as the Grapevine Garden Club Native Plant and Tree Sale and the Nash Farm Fall Roundup. There will be three butterfly releases and of course a costume parade.

If you have never been to the BFFB parade, you will be amazed how many creative ways there are to dress children and their pets as butterflies. The parade will begin at the north end of Main Street and end in the Gardens. Prizes are awarded for the best costumes. Expected attendance is more than 3000.

Over the summer several Garden Club members have been working with Lisa Grove and the Convention and Visitors Bureau planning lots of fun activities and games for the entire family. Several members have already volunteered but we still need your help in the following areas.

Native Plant & Tree Sale – See related article in this newsletter.

Grapevine Garden Club Art Contest – This is the first time the Club has sponsored an Art Contest! The theme for the contest is “Making the World Better and More Beautiful”. The contest will involve preschool and K-5 Grapevine Colleyville ISD students. Art Contest winners will be presented ribbons and cash prizes during the Festival. This committee will need help on October 17th to receive entries and October 19th to help display entries.

Garden Scavenger Hunt – Botanical Garden Docents are creating an interactive and fun scavenger hunt that will involve searching the gardens for all types of “garden treasures”. After the child has located all the garden treasures, they return to the start and receive a prize. Paula Wilson is organizing the scavenger hunt and needs volunteers to help guide the kids during the game.

Kids Ways and Means – The GGC booth will have a wonderful educational butterfly display, seeds, fresh flowers, caterpillars, and kid friendly items. We need heirloom seeds from GGC members' gardens. Please bring the seeds to the September 24th meeting and sign up to sell craft items, to explain the life cycle of butterflies, or to contribute fresh flowers from your garden. We need your help!! Contact Gloria Land with any questions.

Garden Yard Art and Ways & Means – The Yard Art committee will be making and selling garden yard art. Many members are talented and love making crafts. If you have a craft idea that is easy to make, call Barbara Munn to share your idea. Cindy Miller will also be selling garden gloves, GGC History Books and some new garden club logo items. This booth needs friendly volunteers who like to sell.

Kids Craft Activities – During the festival, there will be three areas for children to make crafts to take home. The craft activities are designed for K-5th grade students, and we need volunteers to help children make crafts. Several items need to be cut and sorted prior to the event. So if you can cut, count and sort, volunteer for this committee. Or if you like to have fun with children, volunteer!

Miscellaneous - All of the above plus the GGC will be selling bottled water and raffle tickets. Several raffle items have already been donated from local businesses and we will need volunteers to sell raffle tickets. We will also be selling tickets to

A Morning with Neil Sperry – Texas Home Landscaping–Planning and Plants. The Sperry program is November 26th, 10:00 A.M. at the Palace Theatre in downtown Grapevine.

Butterfly Futterby will be a fun and educational event for Grapevine families, friends, grandparents, and the community. The Grapevine Garden Club will be participating and directing many of these activities. Join the fun by volunteering to help. Sign up at the September 24th GGC regular meeting. Look for the butterflies!

The Monarchs of Fall
Saturday, September 28, 10:30 A.M.
Grapevine Public Library

Do you know enough about monarch butterflies that you feel comfortable and enthusiastic while talking to visitors at the club's exhibit booth at the Butterfly Flutterby festival? Plan on attending the Monarchs of Fall program sponsored by GGC and presented by Jenny Singleton at the Grapevine Public Library! Join us as she brings information about these majestic insects and their incredible life cycle and how your landscape can help the monarch butterfly succeed in its journey.

Jenny Singleton, an educator, Monarch Watch volunteer, seasoned butterfly tag wrangler, and GGC member will present a program designed for both children and adults who want to learn about the beautiful monarch butterflies as they magically appear in north Texas each fall.

For the past twenty plus years, Jenny has been involved with an ongoing research program sponsored by Monarch Watch at the University of Kansas in Lawrence, involving monarch tagging.

Monarchs tagged in Texas have been tracked by this unique numbering system to their overwintering grounds in central Mexico, thus helping scientists study their population. This is especially important today, as monarch butterfly populations are in a steady decline due to loss of habitat and the ongoing drought in their migratory path.

Jenny will teach you about the life cycle of this fascinating insect, its migratory patterns, and beneficial plants the monarchs depend on. She will provide simple backyard landscape ideas to help bring back the Monarch Butterfly—all of which will be helpful as you volunteer for Butterfly Flutterby and the Plant Native-Plant Now (GGC's fall plant sale) which will be featuring butterfly plants in addition to other native plants.

Gardeners on the Go
Fall Gardens and Art Tour
Bentonville, Arkansas and Tulsa, Oklahoma
October 8 - 10, 2013 (2 nights and 3 days)

Linnaeus Teaching Garden

Consider traveling with garden club friends to visit unique art museums surrounded by elaborate gardens and landscapes. Guided tours are planned for gardens surrounding Crystal Bridges, Gilcrease Museum, and Philbrook Museum of Art. Self-guided tours are scheduled for many of the art collections. There is an option of a self-guided tour at the Philbrook or a docent-led tour of the Linnaeus Teaching Garden at the Tulsa Garden Center.

Tour expense fee of $66.00, payable to Grapevine Garden Club, must be submitted prior to September 20 and covers the cost of guided garden tours, admission to Crystal Bridges, Gilcrease Museum, and Philbrook Museum of Art, lunches at Crystal Bridges and Philbrook, and miscellaneous tour expenses.

Anticipated expenses not covered by the $66.00 fee would include hotel expenses, other lunch and dinner meals, and reimbursing carpool driver for gasoline.

There are currently twenty-one members and one guest planning to attend. The tour is limited to thirty. Tour folders will be distributed at the September general meeting to tour attendees.

Gilcrease Victorian Garden

Although you have until September 20th to make a decision about attending, the cutoff date for block room reservation must be submitted for Tulsa by September 12th and Bentonville by September 19th. Try to commit soon so that carpool groups and roommates can be considered.

For further information about the tour, contact Joetta King by email or home phone. Check out the websites for the different tour sites for insight into the glorious places you will be viewing—learning, laughing and making friends as we go!

Plant Native – Plant Now Sale

Saturday October 19, 2013 – 9:00 A.M. – 1:00 P.M.

Botanical Gardens at Heritage Park, 411 Ball Street, Grapevine, TX

GGC is partnering with the City of Grapevine's Tree Sharing Program to conduct a plant sale on October 19th at the Grapevine Botanical Gardens. The event will be in conjunction with Butterfly Flutterby festivities which are scheduled at the gardens from 10:00 A.M. – 2:00 P.M.

With the extreme drought and heat impacting our landscapes, better plant choices need to be considered, and fall is the best time for planting! You will be pleased to find that the Plant Native – Plant Now sale will feature native and adapted trees and shrubs that are hardy and not usually available at local nurseries. They will be small enough (one to three gallon) to transport in your vehicle and are reasonably priced. In addition to the trees and shrubs, nectar and host plants for butterflies will also be featured.

*Chuck Voelker & Karen Rice nurturing plants for Plant Native—Plant Now

To allow you time to consider your landscaping needs, a complete list of the plants for sale will be emailed to members prior to the sale. Members have come to expect a post-sale following our spring plant sales, but this will not be necessary following this sale since the City of Grapevine will purchase unsold plants to use in other projects. Gardeners love a bargain, and GGC members will be given a 10% discount during the plant sale. There will not be a pre-sale or special orders.

Grapevine residents may register for the Grapevine Tree Sharing Program during the sale. Sample trees will be available to view and order. Prices associated with the Grapevine Tree Sharing Program are very reasonable! The purchase of up to two 30-gallon trees includes delivery, planting and a six month – one time – warranty. Trees may be planted in the front or back yard following specific guidelines. Since many of our members are not Grapevine residents, GGC members in the following cities may participate at a higher but still great price: Bedford, Southlake, Colleyville, Euless, Trophy Club, Hurst, North Richland Hills, Coppell, Keller, and Westlake.

As you are aware, GGC, in cooperation with the Grapevine Parks and Recreation Department, would like to build a greenhouse at the Grapevine Botanical Gardens. We believe a greenhouse will provide opportunities to expand educational classes by creating a no-season growing environment. It will provide a living laboratory for hands-on lessons in plant propagation, floriculture, container gardening, fertilization, transplanting, and soil preparation.

The proceeds from the Plant Native – Plant Now Sale will be dedicated to the greenhouse fundraising campaign. Please support our efforts by attending, buying, and volunteering to assist during the sale.

For further information, contact Chuck Voelker, Plant Native – Plant Now coordinator.

Grapevine Garden Club Receives National Recognition

During the National Garden Clubs (NGC) spring convention in Seattle, Washington the Grapevine Garden Club was awarded a National Award of Recognition. The award is for Conservation Education and is presented to gardening organizations who study conservation and the environment.

Thanks to Joetta King, Tour Director Extraordinaire, our members have many opportunities to tour public and private gardens in order to increase their awareness and knowledge of various conservation gardening techniques, design methods and creative use of plant material. Members may not realize that Joetta arranges our tours as learning experiences in conjunction with having fun and getting to know other Club members. (And you thought it was all about the food!)

The recognition was given specifically for our tour to the University of Texas at Arlington (UTA). Twenty-two members saw first-hand the design, construction and maintenance practices of two gardens. The Green at College Park Garden featured native and adapted plants that consume approximately 70% less water than a typical landscape for the area. The Community Garden is a cooperative project between the City of Arlington, UTA and Mission Arlington. It was a fun and informative tour. Thank you, Joetta, for all that you do for the Grapevine Garden Club.

A Morning with Neil Sperry –
Texas Home Landscaping – Planning and Plants
10:00 A.M. - Tuesday, November 26, 2013
Grapevine's Palace Theatre – Tickets $15
Proceeds benefit the Grapevine Botanical Gardens Greenhouse Project

For almost three years GGC has endeavored to raise funds to build a greenhouse at the Grapevine Botanical Gardens, and a very exciting event is scheduled that should provide significant funding for the Grapevine Botanical Gardens Greenhouse Project. This special event will be in lieu of the November general meeting.

September, 2013

Through the efforts of members, James and Debbie Smith, Neil Sperry has agreed to present a program Texas Home Landscaping – Planning and Plants on November 26, 10:00 A.M., at Grapevine's Palace Theatre, 300 South Main Street.

Tickets for A Morning with Neil Sperry are $15 and will be sold at the September 25th general meeting. You may purchase a ticket with cash or a check payable to Grapevine Garden Club. Tickets to the general public will go on sale on October 1 at Marshall Grain (Grapevine) and Calloway's Nursery (Hurst & Southlake) or by using tickets@grapevinegardenclub.com.

As the most familiar voice in Texas horticulture, garden expert Neil Sperry needs no introduction to gardeners in this region. Whether you are a novice gardener or skilled Master Gardener, Neil will help guide you through your gardening challenges as he shares photos of his garden along with other notable gardens he has visited.

Since his early radio broadcasts on behalf of the Texas AgriLife Extension in the early 1970s, to his first commercial broadcast on January 7, 1978, Neil has reached hundreds of thousands of Texas gardeners every week. He is probably the most tenured gardening talk show host in America. You heard him on WFAA radio 1978-1980, KRLD 1980-2010, and Neil now hosts Neil Sperry's Texas Gardening on WBAP 820 on Sundays 8:00 A.M. – 10:00 A.M. If you have horticulture questions, call Neil on Sunday mornings at (800) 288-WBAP (9227).

Neil Sperry's GARDENS Magazine is a reliable source of landscaping and gardening information. It's been that way since it began in 1987. Featuring the finest gardening authorities in the state of Texas, the magazine has been recognized nationally as being the best regional gardening magazine in America. Best of all, every word of the magazine applies to your Texas landscape and garden. You may subscribe to his free monthly electronic newsletter, e-gardens newsletter, at www.neilsperry.com.

Please plan on attending, invite friends, and promote this event! The Greenhouse Project Committee has worked hard soliciting donations and grants. They need your help to reach the $150,000 goal. With the approval of an additional $15,000 donation (2013-14 budget approval), GGC will have donated $30,166 and individual members have contributed $22,452.00. Total contributions from the public, matching funds, other clubs and businesses has brought the total fund to $58,504.

If you have questions regarding the Sperry event, visit with members of the Neil Sperry Fundraiser Committee – Pam Braak, Linda Krimm, Debbie Smith, Elayne Vick, Joetta King, and Lisa Adams Grove. The committee is facilitated by co-chairs Beckie Underwood and Sarah Erickson.

Jacksboro Garden Club Plans Fall Convention

Jacksboro Garden Club will be “callin' in the Cavalry and hitchin' up the wagons” for a “rip roarin' good time” at the 2013 District II Garden Club Fall Convention! “Fall on the Frontier” will be held Saturday, November 9, 2013 in the Halliburton Building at Fort Richardson State Park, Jacksboro, Texas.

Registration will begin at 9:00 A.M., with the business meeting convening at 10:00 A.M. The registration form with all the details for the convention is included in this newsletter. Participants will enter through historic Fort Richardson and be transported across the prairie by horse drawn wagons! Attendees are urged to dress appropriately for the ride and enjoy the pristine surroundings of the fort grounds. Don't be surprised if you see some of the fort's deer grazing as you pass by.

Fort Richardson was established in November of 1867 as the northernmost fort in a line of forts ordered by the Federal Government after the Civil War. The forts were to offer protection to the settlers. It was abandoned a few years later and eventually became the property of the city of Jacksboro. Since being purchased by the State of Texas, seven of the original buildings have been restored and are available for tours. Hiking and biking trails along with camping and fishing have made Fort Richardson a popular “get away” for North Texans.

Other sites of interest in the area are the Jack County History Museum, the restored G.T. and W. Train Depot that houses the Jacksboro Chamber of Commerce, Twin Lakes Playground and Lost Creek Hiking Trail. One can even enjoy a famous “frozen malt” at the old time soda fountain located in City Drug. Perhaps a Starbucks coffee from the Main Street Bistro in the beautifully renovated Eastburn Building on the Square would be more to one's taste! While at the Bistro, be sure to check on the elegantly appointed Bed and Breakfast rooms upstairs; or for a more casual, relaxed B & B experience, The Purple Thistle on Highway 380 West provides a taste of country living.

Members of the Jacksboro Garden Club have spent a year planning this event and have left no stone unturned to assure you of an event you will not soon forget. So leave the hustle and bustle of the city and come out to Jacksboro for a day of fun—“Fall on the Frontier”.
